Arnold, former head of the Madison bond company, indicted by a grand jury at Madison for using the mails to defraud patrons of his bond company. Arnold, arrested at his Madison home following his indictment at Madison, was released by a U. S. Commissioner in New York after furnishing bonds to the extent of $25,000 to assure his appearance in the court here Tuesday. Arnold's attorney also failed to appear.

Stanley M. Ryan, assistant district attorney, stated that so far as he knew no change had been made in the arrangements for Arnold's indictment. This afternoon he was seeking to get in touch with District Attorney W. H. Doughty at Madison or Janesville to ascertain if Doughty had made any other arrangements, if having been reported that the district attorney had agreed to defer Arnold's arraignment until the July term of court in Superior at which time Arnold would be not only arraigned but tried.

TOKYO—By The Associated Press.—Premier Kato, replying to an interpellation by Viscount Kato, leader of the Keiseikai, or opposition party, declared that while no formal negotiations had occurred, "there is an understanding between American, Great Britain and Japan regarding steps to be taken" if the other powers fail to ratify the Washington conference agreements.

At the opening of the diet for business, Premier Kato and Viscount Kato both addressed both houses. The foreign minister vigorously defended the government's foreign policy, which has been criticized severely on the ground that Japan showed weakness in dealing with other powers. SIBERIAN REFUGEE SHIPS ARE BELIEVED LOST IN CHINA SEA

Fear for Safety of Seven Vessels Carrying Exiles from Vladivostok

FIVE SHIPS SAFE IN HARBOR IN PHILIPPINE ISLANDS

Problem is to Find Place Where Exiles Can be Landed

MANILA—By The Associated Press.—Hear is expressed here that seven Russian refugee ships, with more than 500 persons aboard, have been lost in China Sea enroute from Shanghai to the Philippines as part of Admiral Stark's fleet of Vladivostok exiles, five ships of which are anchored near here. The missing vessels have not been heard of since January 10.

Admiral Stark is with the ships which have found temporary harbor in Bolinao Cove. But his white fleet of homeless Siberians has no place on earth to land permanently. Pushed onward first from Korea, then from China, it was given permission to linger only a while in the Philippines. Plans may be worked out, however, for the refugees to remain in the Philippines. They could be admitted under the immigration laws, but the question of absorbing them in business on the islands presents a difficult problem. A majority of the Russian colony are sailors, and it has been suggested that they could be absorbed easily if sent to the United States.

EDUCATIONAL BATTLE DUE TO BREAK IN LEGISLATURE WITHIN THE NEAR FUTURE

MADISON, Wis.—By The Associated Press.—The educational battle that has been waged since last July between normal school course advocates and the state board of normal regents is expected to break before the legislature within a short time. Both sides are preparing for the attack which will be made in full force by Milwaukeeans led by Carroll C. Pearse, former president of the Milwaukee Normal School.

The matter will likely come before the legislature in the form of a bill, which would make it mandatory upon the board of normal regents to operate college courses in connection with the nine normal schools. At present they have authority to institute college courses, but last July they determined to discontinue this instruction and concentrate on the training of teachers.

Would Drop College Courses

This action means that the college courses in the state teachers training institutions, with 1000 students, and of them in Milwaukee, will be discontinued after July 1, 1923. It has resulted in a fight to be waged before the legislature in an effort to get the courses back to the normals.

Those who favor the college training in normal schools contend that they are equipped to handle the training of students unable to attend the state university or the private college of the state. They argue that specialized courses may be instituted with no loss to the training of teachers, and that the normal schools at a small cost can offer the first two years of college training where similar training through junior colleges would be much more expensive.

The opponents of college courses say that the business of normal schools is to train teachers. They point out that there are 18,000 teachers in the schools of the state, with an annual turn over of over 3,000, while the normal schools are graduating from all courses only 1,000 teachers.

With only half the demand for teachers met by the present output of the state teachers training schools the board of normal regents decided that these schools should turn their whole attention to teacher training work, abolishing the college courses. The board members assert that the University will accept credits for teacher training instruction as readily as they will credits for college work in normals. They say that the call for college courses is merely a demand for a municipal university in Milwaukee, which the state should not be called upon to support.

The present budget of normal schools does not include provision for a continuance of the college courses. It is probable that an attempt will be made by those who are fighting for the return of the college training, to have the joint finance committee provide for this added instruction.

In order to carry out its new plan for extended teacher training work, the board of normal regents will have a bill for introduction asking the legislature to approve of four year training courses in the normal schools, leading to a degree in education.

A committee of the board is working on this bill at present and will have it ready for introduction soon. It will probably be opposed by the advocates of the college courses.

The normal school battle is expected to be the most important of the legislative fights to be contested during the present session of the legislature.

HOME FURNISHING COURSE GIVEN AT VOCATIONAL SCHOOL

Young Women Interested in Talks on Interior Decorations and Other Things

J. K. Verhulst, manager of the rig and drapery departments of the E. R. Barron Co., is at present giving the homemaking classes of the Vocational school a series of talks on home furnishing and interior decorating. Upon invitation from the instructors of this department, Mr. Verhulst has promised to give each of the classes a talk during this week which will be followed up by a visit to the store where the girls may see the things about which he is talking.

Mr. Verhulst recommends that every girl take the utmost advantage of every educational contact that in her place of employment she becomes an enthusiastic worker, seeking to further her employer's interest as well as her own. He stressed the needs of thrift through a systematic plan of saving. The main portion of his talk was devoted to the discussion of how girls can learn to become intelligent shoppers.

"To many of our young married people start out with a heavy burden of debt because they are not willing to start in a moderate way," said Mr. Verhulst. "A beautiful home does not necessarily imply a large expenditure of money for furnishings but it does require a knowledge of the proper combinations of color and ability to get artistic effects."

Next week the girls will be taken to the E. R. Barron company's store where the relative value of prices and lineups will be shown and discussed. While in the store the girls will also be given ideas concerning different treatment of windows, etc., for artistic effects.

The girls have become so much interested in the course of instruction in the homemaking department that the instructors have found it advisable to call upon experts in various lines to come in and give talks to the classes. It is hoped by the school authorities that many of the local merchants will be kind enough to assist the school in giving the girls a practical knowledge along home-making lines.

FIGHT PENDING ON APPROPRIATION FOR WISCONSIN GUARD

MADISON, Wis.—A bill to repeal expected in the committee on finance when the state asks an appropriation of $600,000 a year for three years for the Wisconsin National Guard, according to several socialist members of the Wisconsin legislature.

Senator J. J. Hirsch, socialist, Milwaukee, introduced a bill last week for the abolition of the national guard in Wisconsin. This bill was in line with the La Follette platform of economy and doing away with war. Senator Walter Polakowski and Assemblyman Alex Ruffing, socialist, of Milwaukee, and both members of the joint finance committee, declared the request for the three-year appropriation for the guard amounting to $1,818,000 will precipitate a bitter row. A soundings of both houses on the national guard bill gives promise of a fight and considerable debate is expected before the bill will be disposed of.

The Milwaukee bill was passed two years ago and Rev. S. P. Todd, Milwaukee, of the Wisconsin Lord's Day Alliance, is now in Madison prepared to take the Lindahl measure.

Assemblyman Lindahl also introduced a bill providing for a closed season on deer every other year and cancelling the one buck law. Under the Lindahl bill the season for deer would automatically be closed every other year and during the open year there would be no restriction on the age or sex of deer that might be shot. A third bill by Lindahl would rescind an amendment passed at the last session limiting the term of supervisors in certain localities to one year. He proposes that the three year term be general throughout the state.

FIND REMAINS OF TREES GROWN OVER 25,000 YEARS AGO

Wood Found by Excavators for Washington Hotel in Good State of Preservation

WASHINGTON.—By the Associated Press.—When contractors excavating for a large new hotel in Washington recently found a stratum of earth far below the surface containing the remains of tree stumps, trunks and roots, they decided they were "out of luck," and that the foundation would not be firm enough. But when the discovery was brought to the attention of scientists, the latter decided they were in luck for the trees were the remains of giant cypresses that probably grew and died more than 25,000 years ago. The wood was not fossilized and could be sawed as easily as newly cut trees.

The site for the hotel is on lower Connecticut avenue, not far from the business center of the city, and when the excavators hit the tree remains, they feared they were in a recent fill over the stream bed. The wood was quite fresh. The scientists, however, assured them that the colossal cypresses grew away back in the geologic past even before the age of the last advance of the great ice sheet that once covered the entire northern part of the continent.

Many of the trees were of huge dimensions, scores were found in the excavation, which covered an area of an acre and a half, that were more than six feet in diameter. Many ranged as large as fourteen feet, and the workmen thought stump fragments indicated some of the trees must have been twenty-five feet thick. These, however, it was said, must have been clumps instead of single trunks.

Stumps, knees, trunks, small branches and even leaves were found intact. The remains were found in three more or less distinct horizontal zones in what was once a swamp. Thus it appears that first one, then another and finally a third generation of the giant trees probably grew, one following the other as the swamp gradually filled in.

The fibre of the wood was well preserved and easily recognizable. Both sapwood and heartwood remained and in some cases even the bark. When first taken out, the wood was found to be heavy, being thoroughly saturated with water. It was firm and compact, and split evenly. After a few days exposure the water evaporated and the wood became light, very dry and cracked.

For its records the National Lumber Manufacturers association made photographs of the discovery and has preserved a number of cross-sections of the part of one of the largest trees, one is to be mounted as a "monument" of the find. The preservation through such an immense period is attributed largely to the protection afforded it by the water and ooze that once filled the swamp. The trees, after dying, decayed to the water level, which preserved them from that point down.

Passed trees of much greater antiquity are not uncommon. It was said, but remains of trees still in their original condition after a lapse of so long a period are very rare. Sound wood was found at Pompeii, and wooden houses and boats at least a thousand years old have been found elsewhere.

DEATH ENDS FLIGHT OF BADGER CASHIER

MILWAUKEE, Wis.—Death has ended the flight of Clyde K. Stephens, cashier of the Montfort State Bank in Montfort, Wis., who disappeared on June 9, leaving a shortage of nearly $60,000. It was believed Tuesday, March 23, Stephens, Wisconsin commissioner of banking, received a telegram signed by the Sheriff at River St. Louis, Miss., declaring that the body of a man believed to be the missing bank official had been found there.

First Stephens, a relative of the missing man, has started for Ray St. Louis to identify the body, and Attorney J. J. Rutledge has requested Mississippi authorities to hold the body.

THE "SLEEPERS" IN THE RAILROAD BED

The most common explanation of the term "sleepers" is that the bags repose in the bed of the railroad. Unfortunately for this theory, the particular word occurs not only in connection with railways, but in other industries, being always used as a technical term for pieces of timber or metal fixed in a horizontal position.

Its real origin is the Norwegian "sleper," which meant timber, metal, or even stone, laid so as to form a convenient surface to drag things over.

Originally used as a technical term in the days when our railways were in the building, it did not take long for our busy laborers to corrupt the word into the nearest English it sounded like, and so sleepers became our common "sleepers." Our word "sleper" comes from the same Norwegian word.

Recently, greatly changed in physical appearance, he admitted in the court of special sessions that he had stolen a cheap overcoat from a friend, way store to get money to buy narcotics. He was sentenced to the workhouse for six months, after which, the court directed, he should be taken to Welfare Island for treatment.

SPRING HINTS ARE SEEN IN NEW STYLES

There's a hint of spring in all these style models.

Shoeless coats are predicted with long-sleeved dresses. They will make a new version of the three-piece suit and are shown already in silks for southern wear.

Another probable favorite is the coat with turnover collar and long sleeves. These samples can't be spoken of as authoritative yet, but they're much in favor at winter resorts. Usually this is regarded as an indication of fashions to come.

MAN FOUND DEAD IN REFRIGERATOR CAR AT DUBUQUE

Card on Body Bears Name of Fred Conrad, Hibbing, Minn.; Had Large Sum of Money

The body of a man believed to have been dead for a day or more was found in the ice compartment of an Illinois Central refrigerator car by Dubuque workmen at East Dubuque early Monday morning. An identification card bearing the name of Fred Conrad, of Hibbing, Minn., was found on the dead man, together with a large diamond ring and checks. Liberty bonds and cash totalling $2,371.00.

The car in which the man was found was shipped out of Bloomington, Ill., last Friday. Illinois Central records show. The car was being transferred from the Illinois Central to the Burlington road when the discovery was made. Workmen attempted to open the door to fix the heater, but found it jammed. They then climbed into the ice compartment where they discovered the body. It is thought that the man was overcome by the fumes of a charcoal heater which was in the car. The compartment was airtight and the fumes could easily suffocate a person exposed to them for long, railroad men say.

There was no evidence of foul play since the money and valuables were undisturbed.

Efforts are being made to locate relatives or friends of Conrad at Hibbing.

COLORS SPIRAL IN THE GLASS AGATE

How many people have ever wondered how the colored spiral gets into the glass marbles that children are so fond of playing with? These marbles are, principally, made abroad, in Czechoslovakia, and the spirals are put in this way: The glassworker gathers a lump of fluid glass on to his blowpipe, or iron rod. This is dipped into a mold with straight ridges cut inside, in which are placed rods of glass of the required color.

When the lump of fluid is withdrawn from the mold, the colored rods stick to the fluid glass. A further quantity of fluid is then gathered over the first lump, with the colored rods attached, and the twist is obtained by holding the extreme end of the mass rigid, and turning the iron rod. The same method is carried out in the logs of old English wine glasses, one still sees occasionally.

SPRING MANEUVERS TO BE CENTERED ON PANAMA CANAL
WASHINGTON, D. C.—Army plans for defense of the Panama canal are to be thoroughly tested during the week ending February 21, with the United States fleet, mobilized for spring maneuvers. In the role of the hostile force threatening the great waterway, development of an attack on the canal defenses in a way best calculated to test the army's plans will be worked out by Admiral Jones, commander-in-chief of the United States fleet and the commanding general in the zone.

Because of the present reduced size of the Panama garrison, however, it is probable that operations will be confined to a restricted area.

CALLS FOR AN OPEN SEASON ON DEER IN ALTERNATE YEARS

Repeal of One-buck Law Proposed in Bill Offered by Superior Man

MADISON, Wis.—Repeal of the one-buck deer law, enacted by the 1919 legislature, with substitution of an open season on deer in Wisconsin every other year, is called for in a bill introduced Tuesday by assemblyman C. J. Lindahl, Superior. The measure calls also for an open season on partridges and prairie chickens every other year, in place of the present law establishing an annual open season.

The one-buck law has been the center of a stormy legislative battle through a number of sessions and is again brought forward by the Superior assemblyman.

It is claimed that the present law is generally violated, and is resulting in the depletion of the herds of Wisconsin deer.

Makes a Family Supply of Cough Remedy

Really better than ready-made cough syrups, and saves about $2. Easily and quickly prepared.

If you combined the curative properties of every known "ready-made" cough remedy, you probably could not get as much real curative power as there is in this simple home-made cough syrup, which is easily prepared in a few minutes.

Get from any druggist 2 1/2 ounces of Pinex, pour it into a pint bottle and fill the bottle with syrup, using either plain granulated sugar syrup, clarified molasses, honey, or corn syrup, as desired. The result is a full pint of really better cough syrup than you could buy ready-made for three times the money. Tastes pleasant and never spoils.

This Pinex and Syrup preparation gets right at the cause of a cough and gives almost immediate relief. It loosens the phlegm, stops the nearly throat tickle and breaks the sore, irritated membrane so gently and easily that it is really astonishing.

A day's use will usually overcome the ordinary cough and for bronchitis, croup, whooping and bronchial asthma, there is nothing better.

Pinex is a most valuable concentrated compound of genuine Norway pine extract, and has been used for generations to break up severe colds.

To avoid disappointment, ask your druggist for "2 1/2 ounces of Pinex" with full directions, and don't accept anything else. Guaranteed to give absolute satisfaction, or money promptly refunded. The Pinex Co., Ft. Wayne, Ind.

MANY OF LONDON'S ANTIQUES DECLARED TO BE ONLY FAKES

American Tourists Victimized by Dealers in Fraudulent Articles

LONDON.—The methods by which thousands of persons are cheated annually through the sale by dealers of antique furniture, draperies and porcelain which are "faked," were shown recently when an antique dealer was brought into court charged with fraud.

During the trial it was declared that dealers sell thousands of pounds worth of antiques every year to American tourists visiting England, and that probably less than five percent of the purchases are real.

The methods of the antique dealers in faking their wares are carried out so skillfully that the experts differed widely in their opinion of many of the pieces brought into court. The favorite system of the crooked dealer is to obtain a genuine antique of a certain period, for instance a chair, this he will take apart, and reconstruct a number of new chairs of the same design, each one containing a section of the original chair. It was shown during the hearing that an antique bedstead had been taken to pieces and that the twelve duplicates fashioned in accordance with this system had sold for $5000 each.

In faking china the work is more difficult. Here the dealer must make copies conforming minutely to the original and bearing the maker's signature. This requires a skill which few persons possess nowadays, and which easily baffles the experts.

It is estimated that sixty percent of the antiques now being shown in London are not what they are represented to be.

MOVIES OF STATE'S WILD LIFE TO BE SHOWN IN SCHOOLS

Conservation Commission Completes Film and Starts it for Tour of State

MADISON, Wis.—School children of Wisconsin are going to have an opportunity to see the wild life of the state. The state conservation commission Tuesday announced that upwards of 2,000 feet of movie film has been completed and is now starting a tour of the state, opening in Milwaukee.

The conservation movie shows the activities of the three departments: game, fisheries and timber and will be accompanied by F. D. Upson, Cornell, special lecturer for the commission.

"We are going to show the children of this state the reason for conservation," said Commissioner Brayton O. Webster. "They will see every operation in the hatching of fish, how young trees are grown and planted to replace those cut, and how we must preserve the game life if we are to maintain it for the future."

"An educational film of this sort is worth more than fifty deputies some time in the future. While the film is not entirely complete it will be finished within a few days and when we have finished showing in Milwaukee schools Mr. Upson will accompany it on a tour of the state."

Over a year has been spent in obtaining the film for this picture. Certain parts of the film are seasonal in nature and required a delay while other scenes of wild life taken in the woods took many patient hours of work to obtain.

BLAINE BILL WOULD MAKE WEALTH BEAR LARGE PART OF STATE'S TAX BURDEN

Proposes Higher
Rate of Taxation
On Large Incomes

MADISON, Wis.—By The Associated Press.—Wealth, represented by higher incomes, will bear a larger part of the tax burden of Wisconsin if the bill prepared by the administration for introduction into the Wisconsin legislature is enacted into law. Its sponsors point out.

This proposal, the drafting of which was completed by Judge Charles D. Rosa of the tax commission, calls for a graduated tax on incomes up to $75,000, with the per cent of tax varying from one to 15 per cent, and for a flat six per cent tax on net incomes of corporations. The bill asks ten specific changes in the present tax laws in order to raise approximately $16,000,000 from incomes.

Hits Large Incomes

- Following are its main features:
1. Sharper increase in the income tax rate from one to eleven per cent on incomes up to $11,000, placing the heavier burden upon persons with large incomes.
 2. The establishment of a flat rate of six per cent on the net income of all corporations in place of the application of the same rates as applied to individuals.
 3. Repeal of the personal property tax offset to the income tax which means the addition of approximately $4,000,000 annually to the income tax return.
 4. Readjustment of the distribution of the income tax returns to give the state 50 per cent, the counties 10 per cent and the municipalities 40 per cent. At present the state gets 10 per cent, the counties 20 per cent and municipalities 70 per cent.

5. The creation of a new fund in the state treasury to be known as the "state income tax fund."

6. The repeal of all surtaxes except the soldiers' educational bonus which expires this year.

7. The repeal of the mill taxes on property now levied for common school, the university and normal schools.

8. The flat appropriation from the income tax fund to meet the sums now raised by the mill tax and the teachers' insurance and retirement fund surtax. This is a substitute for the present taxes.

9. The establishment of a balance in the income tax fund above the needed appropriations and above $1,000,000 to guard against unexpected slumps in incomes, is to be paid annually into the common school fund.

10. The repeal of the secrecy clause to the income tax.

The result of this tax bill, if enacted into law, will be to wipe out entirely the state tax, according to its backers. It will readjust the tax burden on property and incomes to approximately the ratio that existed when the income tax law was enacted in 1911.

A slight increase in the revenue of cities and counties above the present income taxes would result from the law, while general property of all citizens of the cities, and of the towns and villages as well would be relieved of the burden of the state tax.

Governor Blaine, through his leaders in both houses of the legislature will sponsor this tax bill, supporting it for passage. The fight on the proposal will center in the upper house of the legislature and its success will largely depend upon socialist support.

The joint finance committee of the legislature will probably introduce the bill sometime this week, unless present plans are changed. After that hearings will be scheduled before it gets to the floor.

FEDERAL AGENTS AT WINONA MAKE TWO RAIDS; FIND LIQUOR

Federal agents, operating from the Winona branch office of the prohibition enforcement bureau in Winona, raided a soft drink saloon at 728 East Third street and seized a small quantity of moonshine liquor late Saturday, they announced Monday. John Schuminski, proprietor, and Chas. Coy Bonnak, bartender, were cited to appear before the United States commissioner, officers said.

A raid on the Wenonah bar, 120 East Third street, failed to disclose any liquor, it was stated.

The federal men reported that they visited local dance halls recently and found conditions to be excellent. Little evidence of use of liquor was observed, it was added.

ASSOCIATED PRESS PIONEER DIES IN CHICAGO HOSPITAL

Played Important Part in Organization of Great News Gathering Agency

CHICAGO, Ill.—Addison C. Thomas, who a quarter of a century ago was one of the most widely known newspaper men in the United States, died Tuesday at the West Side hospital. The cause of his death was a stomach ailment which had recently prevented him from taking any solid food.

Mr. Thomas, who was born July 14, 1851, was for a long time superintendent of the Central division of the Associated Press, with headquarters in Chicago.

In developing the present extensive leased wire systems of the Associated Press, Mr. Thomas played an important role and for a number of years was superintendent of this leased wire system. He was a practical telegrapher.

In Chicago, in the eighties, he first demonstrated the possibility of the use of the typewriter by operators in receiving telegraph news direct from the Morse sounder. This increased the carrying capacity of circuits and immediately added greatly to the volume of news delivered to the newspapers of the country, a distinct boon to readers. It also made the work of telegraphers infinitely easier.

The introduction of the typewriter was brought about only after endless experimenting by Mr. Thomas and long after others had declared the idea impracticable. But soon the typewriter became an indispensable part of the equipment of commercial telegraph companies and railroads.

The device known as the cyclograph, a duplicating machine used by the Associated Press, was also one of his inventions.

It was the first machine to feed ink from the inside of a cylinder, a principle now adopted in mimeographing.

As an executive Mr. Thomas immediately directed the arrangements for handling the news of many stirring events. He was voted a medal of honor by the board of directors of the Associated Press.

The pneumatic tube system by which Chicago newspaper offices are connected with the Associated Press, and with the city news bureau, was devised by Mr. Thomas and installed under his personal direction.

FAMOUS VOYAGER COLLECTION IN U.S. NEW YORK.—The Knickerbocker collection of eighteenth century illustrated books and drawings, which was moved from a Russian chamber under a bombardment in 1914, was in the United States Tuesday, having arrived Monday.

It contains thousands of original prints and drawings, including the complete set of Rembrandt of 1757-61, and a set of drawings by Dürer for LaFontaine's fables.

Cocoon Oil Fine For Washing Hair

If you want to keep your hair in good condition, be careful what you wash it with.

Many soaps and prepared champoos contain too much free alkali. This dries the scalp, makes the hair brittle, and is very harmful. Mulled cocoon oil shampoo, which is pure and entirely greaseless, is much better than anything else you can use for shampooing, as this can't possibly injure the hair.

Simply put two or three teaspoons of Mulled in a cup or glass with a little warm water, then moisten the hair with water and rub the Mulled in. It will make an abundance of rich, creamy lather, and cleanse the hair and scalp thoroughly. The lather rinses out easily, and leaves no greasy particles on the hair, dirt, dandruff and excess oil. The hair dries quickly and evenly, and it keeps it soft and sleek, bright, fluffy and easy to manage.

You can get Mulled cocoon oil shampoo at any drug store. It is very cheap, and a few ounces last everyone in the family for months. The sure cure druggists give you Mulled.

UNDER THE CAPITOL DOME

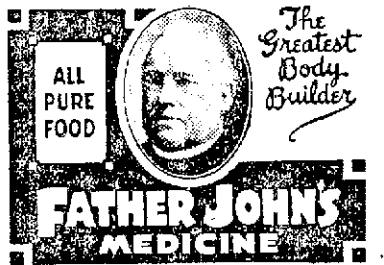

Odds and Ends of State Affairs by William J. Anderson

MADISON, Wis.—This session of the legislature is not to lack interesting features, as one may infer from the fact that one of the socialist senators who helped the administration to organize the senate has introduced a measure abolishing the National guard, and Senator Huber has introduced a resolution to expunge the resolutions against Senator La Follette's war record, and to withdraw from the Historical Library the protest against the senator's war record that was signed by 300 members of the university faculty.

Senator Huber's proposal will meet with strong opposition in the legislature. With the socialists it may be possible to secure the expunging of the legislative resolutions against La Follette, but when it comes to the university "round robin" it will be a different matter. The members who signed that may protest that they haven't changed their opinions of La Follette's stand during the war, and, moreover, they may take the position that the legislature has no authority to touch the "round robin." It can order the Historical society not to house it, but as to destroying it, that is a different matter.

Huber's proposal suggests that it is really an effort to get even with the university faculty rather than a legitimate plan to wipe out the record. But, whatever its purpose, it is going to precipitate a big fight in the legislature and out of it. It can hardly help Senator La Follette to have his war time utterances gone over in speeches and publications. All he had to gain from his record during war time politically was gained in his reelection. The stirring up of the mess may not make La Follette more popular, but it is impossible for it to bring him friends. Senator Huber's zeal might well have taken counsel of the age-old proverb, "Let sleeping dogs lie."

* The fuel situation in Wisconsin seems to be improving. The mild weather, and the distribution of coal seem to have removed all danger of any scarcity in any portion of the state.

MRS. FISKE HERE IN GREAT PLAY AT LA CROSSE THEATER

Has Uncanny Features But Acting in "Dice of the Gods" is Superb

Termed by some critics her greatest characterization, Mrs. Fiske appeared before a good sized audience at the La Crosse Theater Monday night in the role of "Paddy," a drug addict in "Dice of the Gods," a large production elaborately staged and artistically dressed.

Mrs. Fiske's latest play is drama, pure and simple, with uncanny features which make the audience squirm and with a tragic ending which makes one shudder, but which, the dramatic art of one of America's foremost actresses stands out as a thing to be admired and not easily forgotten.

The interpretation of the role of a drug addict gave Mrs. Fiske opportunity to run the whole gamut of human emotions, appearing light hearted, affectionate, witty and vivacious or in the depths of despair and hopelessness depending upon the time lapsing since her last "shot." When in the clouds, the fog or the mist, as she termed it, she did the most uncomfortable things, seemed to delight in hurting those who were near and, to her, and had and stole to get funds to obtain the drug she craved. It was a difficult part and the acting was superb.

Mrs. Fiske has splendid support, particularly from the handsome young woman who played the part of Charlotte, the daughter. There was plenty of local color in the four scenes which marked the production, the settings were handsome and massive, and the action of the play showed the masterful touch of the real stage artist.

Despite the fact that we cannot display much enthusiasm over this sort of a story the play as presented by Mrs. Fiske and her capable company must be registered as one of the great dramas of the season here. Notwithstanding this conclusion, we confess to a desire to see Mrs. Fiske once more in "Becky Sharp" or "Salvation Nell," or something not quite so unappealing as the vehicle in which she appeared here last night.

FISHERMEN ADRIFT AT SEA LIVED ON BEER FOR 11 DAYS

GAJEVESTON, Tex. — Substituting for eleven days on a diet of British beer three men, half dead from exhaustion, exposure and hunger, were picked up by the Morgan line steamer Occident, 225 miles off the Texas coast, January 18, according to Captain E. S. Campbell, master of the steamer, on arrival here.

The men were described as Florida fishermen, all past middle age, who said they were engaged in taking a cargo of liquor from the Bahama islands to Cuba in an 18 foot motor boat. Their gasoline supply running out they were carried by current and wind out into the Atlantic. Two leaves of bread and two cans of beans, the only food on the craft, were quickly used up and for eleven days they subsisted on beer.

MITZI NEXT MONDAY

An old Roumanian castle, a ghost, an echo, and a poor-but-pretty little princess, is the setting for the musical romance in which Henry W. Savage offers the prima donna comedienne, Mitzi, in her greatest success, "Lady Billy," which comes to the La Crosse theater Monday night, January 23.

In a series of guises and disguises, from ghost of her ancestral aunt and gardener's son to boy soprano, Mitzi, as "Lady Billy," moves from this old world scene to a new world salon, in New York's famous Bohemian quarter, Greenwich Village.

The production of "Lady Billy" is one of the most pretentious sponsored by Henry W. Savage in many seasons, and the material provided the little star is the best she has had since she captivated American audiences in "Sart," "Pom Pom" and "Head Over Heels."

There is no chorus in "Lady Billy" but an orchestra of talented young beauties who can sing, dance and act, a quartette of special dancers and a stirring male quartet. And sparkling through every scene and setting of "Lady Billy" is Mitzi.

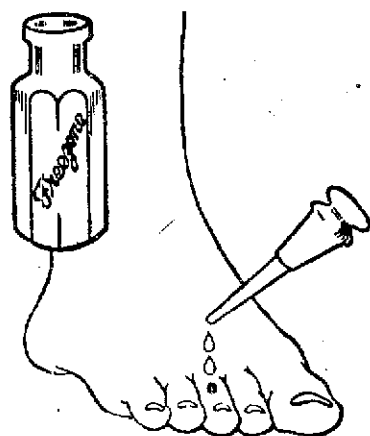

A special opera orchestra is included in the big company.

IF RHEUMATIC BEGIN ON SALTS

Says We Must Keep Feet Dry, Avoid Exposure, Eat No Sweets.

Stay off the damp ground, avoid exposure, keep feet dry, eat no sweets of any kind for a while, drink lots of water and above all take a spoonful of Jad Salts occasionally to help keep down uric and toxic acids.

Rheumatism is caused by poison toxins, called acids, which are absorbed into the blood. It is the function of the kidneys to filter this acid from the blood. The pores of the skin are also a means of freeing the blood of this impurity. In damp and chilly weather the skin pores are closed, thus forcing the kidneys to do double work; they become weak and sluggish and fail to eliminate this poison, which keeps accumulating and circulating through the system, eventually settling in the joints and muscles, causing stiffness, soreness and pain, called rheumatism.

At the first twinge of rheumatism get from any pharmacy about four ounces of Jad Salts; put a tablespoonful in a glass of water and drink before breakfast each morning for a week. This is helpful to neutralize acidity and stimulate the kidneys, thus helping to rid the blood of these rheumatic poisons.

Jad Salts is inexpensive, and is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and is used with excellent results by thousands of folks who are subject to rheumatism.

"SECOND-HAND ROSE"

"Second Hand Rose," the popular song sensation, has become "Second Hand Rose," the popular picture sensation.

For Gladys Walton's latest starring vehicle at the Majestic Theater has a new kick. It enters a new field for material and the result is unique.

If there ever was a song character more pathetically lovable than "Second Hand Rose," it would be hard to name it.

The poor little girl had everything second hand. Nothing came to her new, clothes, troubles or a husband. But "Second Hand Rose" hardly needs description to the millions who have heard and sung the piece, and the story is just what you expect it to be. It's the "Second Avenue hymn" visualized with the heroine a little Irish waif in a Jewish family.

These are the hardships faced by Horace G. Winsby in "Making a Man," a Paramount picture starring Jack Holt the feature at the Riviera theatre tonight.

"CLANSMAN" AUTHOR DENOUNCES MODERN KLAN ORGANIZATION

NEW YORK.—Thomas Dixon, author of "The Clansman," condemned the modern Ku Klux Klan in an address Monday night and declared it had stolen the livery of the original order. He was one of several speakers at a meeting called by the American Unity League to discuss ways and means for combatting the hooded organization. He said that when the modern Klan was organized a few years ago he declined an invitation to join, warning the organizers "That if they dared to use the disguise in a secret oath bound order today, with the courts of law working under a civilized government, the end was a sure riot, anarchy, bloodshed and martial law."

"We have already reached the riot and bloodshed," he said, "and unless the thing is throttled promptly we are in sight of martial law."

HOLWAY ANNOUNCES AWARDS FOR STATE GUARD MARKSMEN

Pfister Trophy for Highest Combined Rating is Given to Manitowoc Unit

MADISON, Wis. — Awards for proficiency in rifle work in the Wisconsin National Guard were made Tuesday by Adjutant General Orlando Holway, in a general order.

The Pfister trophy, for the highest combined rating in rifle work, inspection and rifle work, is awarded to Company C, 127th Infantry, Manitowoc. Commenting on this award the order states that "while comparative markings at inspection are impractical, the showing this company made at inspection, the thoroughness that it has displayed in the care of property, the promptness and efficiency displayed in administration, the strength maintained, the uniformly large drill attendance, together with the large margin this company has over all others in rifle work, make it appear unquestionable that this organization is entitled to the highest award for all around work."

The national trophy for the highest figure of merit on all record scores of 120 or over, went to Company C, 127th Infantry, Manitowoc. National defense trophies for the greatest number of marksmen were awarded in the following order:

First honor to Company C, 127th Infantry, Manitowoc, 75 marksmen. Second honors to Service Troop, 105th Infantry, Eau Claire, 24 marksmen.

Third honors to Company B, 127th Infantry, Rhinelander, 23 marksmen. The department trophy, for highest figure of merit based on number of marksmen or better went to Company C, 127th Infantry, Manitowoc.

The Cook trophy, for highest individual score in camp, was given to Supply Sergeant Gustave B. Luck, Company B, 127th Infantry, Rhinelander, if the trophy can be located. This trophy is somewhere in Milwaukee, but hasn't been found.

The Graham trophy, for the greatest number of pistol marksmen, was given to headquarters company, 124th Infantry, Tebb.

The Holway diamond medal for estimating distance is awarded to Capt. Scott A. Cairry, 128th Infantry, Platteville. His per cent of error was .06782. The other nine high are: First Lieutenant I. F. Miller, 127th Infantry, Appleton; Second Lieutenant G. A. Abel, 128th Infantry, Chippewa Falls; Captain E. R. Becker, 128th Infantry, Wausau; First Lieutenant R. C. Lund, 128th Infantry, Chippewa Falls; Captain A. L. O'Day, 127th Infantry, Milwaukee; Captain Henry Vogt, 127th Infantry, Fond du Lac; Second Lieutenant John McGiligan, 1st Infantry, Ladysville; First Lieutenant W. B. PUBLIC DEBATE

La Crosse, Wis., Jan. 22, 1934. Editor Tribune:

In a recent issue of the Tribune, the statement was made that "the executive board of the La Crosse City band was working on a plan for developing and financing the band, and as this plan developed it would be published."

May we ask for sufficient space in the Tribune to place this band situation before the public, and the "plan" for taking care of it, as far as now developed.

In order that the citizens may thoroughly understand this situation we desire to call attention to a few facts which have been considered by the executive board of the band, in working out a "community" band idea, the plan we are asking the citizens of La Crosse to support.

The members of the band have invested up to date six thousand dollars in instruments, music and uniforms, and no account is taken of the amount spent for instruction, nor for the money value of the time given to study and rehearsals.

In the past overhead expense has been met by the boys paying monthly "dues," donating services, giving concerts, excursions, playing occasional jobs, etc. The expense of running a band consists of director's salary, hall rent, music, advertising, repairing instruments, etc., etc.

Now, in order to build up the band from a musical standpoint the executive board has decided to employ a director who will devote his entire time to teaching, and in this way give an opportunity to the boy who is musically inclined to get instruction and musical experience which will develop him eventually into a good musician. The director will also act as executive manager for such occasions for the city (when music may be needed as a factor) to bring about better business relations between the business men of La Crosse and vicinity.

To accomplish these ends and to relieve the band members from the financial burden carried by them in the past, they are going to ask every merchant, jobber, mechanic—in fact every citizen of La Crosse—to become members of the "Band Boosters," and by contributing a little each to the fund, insure the city a band for all civic occasions, more concerts, without the handicap of asking a few merchants to donate before a band can be secured. Suffice it to say: that the plan now developing, if carried to a successful conclusion, will provide the city with a band for all occasions with the "financing" taken care of in advance, and will mean a better band, a better community spirit, more business, etc., all at a very little cost to the individual citizen.

This is the general idea. The details will be given later. (Signed) THE LA CROSSE CITY BAND. E. L. TAYLOR, President. F. E. SPANG, Secretary.

LIMIT INHERITANCE TO A MILLION ASKS MILWAUKEE SOLO

MADISON, Wis.—Limiting inheritance to one million dollars and all over that figure to go to the country to pay off "burdensome war taxation" is sought by Assemblyman Richard Elsner, Milwaukee. A joint resolution, introduced in the lower house of the Wisconsin legislature Tuesday by Mr. Elsner, memorializes congress to amend the federal inheritance tax law to limit inheritance to this figure.

The resolution, Mr. Elsner declared, was prompted by the enormous war debt left to be paid and on account of the evils of concentrated wealth.
